

UNIVERSITY CIPHER CHAMPION

March 2013

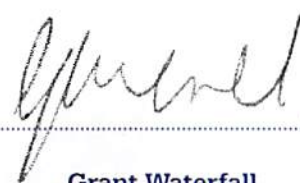

This certificate confirms University College London as the winner of Cyber Security Challenge UK's first University Cipher Challenge 2013. University College London beat three other UK Universities to gain the highest score of the first-of-its-kind competition.

Expert judges from PwC's Threat and Vulnerability Management division awarded marks based on cipher creativity and ingenuity as well as how many University College London players managed to successfully crack the code.
